Dear Cpt Stavros Vezyroglou, good day!

Yours below is duly noted and document well received with thanks. Please find attached PDA for OPL call at Fortaleza, Suape and Recife ports. You'll notice that the most cost efficient option is Fortaleza port, however it is the most distant from Suape port.

Please be advised that Fortaleza Port also offers the most accessible procedures for the requested service, due to the requirement of the Suape and Recife authorities to investigate the crew health situation once we request the disembarkation of one crew member due to medical reasons. Therefore, should you opt to perform the crew disembarkation at Suape or Recife port, the vessel will be unable to sail until the doctor has provided a diagnosis for the crew health condition and Navy analyzes it. Whilst at Fortaleza Port, the vessel will be ready for sail upon the crew disembarkation.

With regards to Recife and Suape alternatives, the main difference when it comes to costs between them is the port utilization tax that is charged at Suape port, as it is mandatory there.

Therefore, in view of the above, we suggest to proceed with arrangements at Fortaleza OPL.

Looking forward to receive your feedback.

Thanks and best regards,

Arvellos Rodrigo

Dear Cpt Stavros Vezyroglou, good day!

Yours below is duly noted. We confirm possibility of arranging the crew disembarkation at OPL for Suape port. We can also offer alternative options as Fortaleza and Recife ports.

In all cases, is necessary to proceed with arrangements during daylight hours due to safety reasons and is necessary that vessel make a lee once boat arrives alongside, for a safe disembarkation.

Kindly revert with ship's particulars so we can gather the costs for OPL calls for crew disembarkation at the three mentioned ports.

Thanks and

Dear Pedro and Sultrade team good day

Could you urgently advise us if a managed vessel of ours can call Suape port OPL and

Disembark a crew member claiming to have stomachaches in order to go to the doctor and further actions?

Vessel will continue her voyage and will not wait for him to embark back

Please let us know if this is feasible, what formalities and what cost will be involved

Moreover as the vessel is pretty close I suppose that in such emergency cases not any long time notice will be needed for the said call which please confirm

Lastly could you propose any other nearby port that said ops can be done at least cost and less time needed?

Your prompt reply will be highly appreciated

Best Regards
